Description:

Stories, tips, and ideas show them why and how boundaries help them behave in positive, responsible ways.

Hello fellow readers, The 40 asset program has been a hallmark in my parenting classes. It really is a roadmap for parents who were never parented with love and compassion. This little book is one I keep in my bag and recommend to families. Many parents want the kids to love them so much, they forget to set boundaries and expectations. This is not a service to the child who grows into a selfish self-centered adult who does not know how to assume responsibility. One of the many ways I suggest for parents to motivate and teach kids is to expect them to do chores. Simple, huh? If you want to build cooperation, competence and character, you will want to buy this book, one of many in my series. It is meant to be read together as a family, so everyone is on board. Thanks for doing such an important job of raising strong, healthy and self-reliant kids. Judy Helm Wright, author of 77 Ways to Get Your Kids to Help at Home (77 Ways to Parent Series)
